

bespoke photography training

by Dan Evans

what I offer understanding the art of photography

- working with available light, flash & studio lights
- using composition for impact, context & balance
- topics can include landscapes and people using equipment

- camera techniques - focusing, exposure, sharpness & depth of field
- using reflectors & diffusers to get professional portraits
- ISO speed & when to use tripods & supports
- digital camera settings

in the digital darkroom

- transferring data to a computer
- establishing a workflow
- optimising & correcting images
- B+W conversion
- finishing & presentation of images

how it works

- we discuss how you take photographs now and what you would like to achieve in the future
- we agree a programme based upon your needs
- the training sessions are informal, at your pace and you learn by doing
- we then check we achieved your aims
- your confidence would be developed by positive reinforcement fees

- I charge my standard ½ day rate for sessions of up to 3.5 hours
- discounts apply for a pre-booked programme of several sessions
- free ongoing support, answering specific questions and commenting on your images (within reasonable limits)

membership of professional bodies

- BIPP ~ British Institute of Professional Photographers
- IFL ~ Institute For Learning

I look forward to working with you
